PREH WITH A NEW WEBSITE

Effective immediately, we are presenting information on Preh and Preh products online in a fresh new design. The category of "Purchasing", featuring a Preh supplier portal, has been added, along with a download area for brochures and other documents.

In addition, the new website has been designed so that our business unit Preh Innovative Automation (PIA) is presented immediately when the main webpage is launched. In the category of "Careers", applicants for our Germany location can click on the link to the micro site "wir-unternehmen.com", as usual. Job openings at Preh in China can be found on the job exchange of our shareholder, Joyson, with the corresponding separate links for university graduates and applicants with previous experience.
